Initiatives Towards Sustainable Development

Associate Professor Dr. Rohizani Yaakub & Mdm. Norlida Ahmad
School of Educational Studies
Universiti Sains Malaysia
Currently independent initiatives for incorporation of EfSD in taught courses

Situational analyses:
- Current levels of awareness among students
- Knowledge, behaviors and attitudes
- Preparedness for teaching
- Faculty perspectives

Participation in UNESCO/others workshops on EfSD

Asia-Pacific Network of Teacher Ed Inst. on ESD
Member of EU-SUPPORT & ENSI initiatives
Summary of activities:

1. USM short term research grant “Assessment of Infusion of ESD in T & L Among TEIs Lecturers”

2. “Greening The Teacher Curriculum” workshop
   - TEIs: local & international
   - MoE
   - NGOs
   - Corporate sector

3. Co2nect - Climate Change
   - 34 schools participated
   - 40 teachers
   - 4000 students

4. RU research grant “Students’ Engagement in Local Environment Issues”
Welcome to the website for the SUPPORT project!

The goal of SUPPORT - Partnership and Participation for a Sustainable Tomorrow - is to promote and enhance the quality of education for sustainable development by linking schools, research institutions and communities in a web-based network. SUPPORT aims to increase participation in science studies by making these more attractive, reduce the gender imbalance in science education and promote entrepreneurship by supporting a school culture of innovation and responsibility.

Latest news from SUPPORT

Launch of SUPPORT website (15.02.08)

Dear Partners and members of the SUPPORT network!

We are now launching this website. The functions are up and running, but we have a bit polishing left, and we are also going to improve the documentation to ease the navigation. We will contact partners and members by email shortly with instructions on how to upload profile information and general info about how to use the site. Most of the tools are coupled to your user accounts, which you will be able to access when you have received a login-account from us.

All the best from Bergen!